

Caring Community Foundation Revitalization Grant Winners

The Caring Community Foundation (CCF) is pleased to announce the winners of its 2017 Revitalization grants.

This is the Foundation's first annual grant cycle, made possible in part by the Monsanto America's Farmers Grow Communities Program.

"We want to develop strong relationships with our local non-profits who serve community needs with the hope that by working together, we can revitalize our home towns," Jay Rezac, CCF Board Chair, explained, "we believe this will help make the future of our communities strong."

The CCF is awarding $1000 grants to each of these:

Frankfort High School for park restoration by students and community

HRHS to continue to transform the Havensville school into a community center

Onaga Revitalization Group to improve signage for Onaga

Onaga Historical Society for archival storage and presentation of local history

Frankfort Development Trust to help restore an old community school into a community center

"We recognize that our rural towns, established in an earlier century, must meet economic and cultural challenges to have a vibrant future. The people engaged in these projects know that, and their commitment is making a difference," said Susie Kufahl, CCF Executive Director, "we are impressed and we are happy to help."

The Caring Community Foundation is a public charity serving rural Northeast Kansas since 2015. The CCF can be reached at 307 Leonard Street in Onaga or online at www.ccfks.org.
